

John Pearen (1809-1897)
Ann Modeland (1820-1903)

John Pearen was one of the original immigrants to Canada in 1832. John and Ann were the first Canadian ancestors of the Pearen descendants in Saskatchewan.

John Pearen and Ann Modeland had 8 children. The oldest was the Rev. James Pearen after whom the Pearen United Church, Pearen Park, and Pearen Street in Toronto were named.

Golden Wedding

An event of unusual interest occurred on the 11th inst. At the residence of Mr. and Mrs. Pearen, sen., of Brampton, when their children and grandchildren met to celebrate with them the 50th anniversary of their wedding. There were present the following who were at the wedding half a century ago: Thos. Helthy, Esq., Messrs. Isaac and Joshua Modeland; also the Rev. A. Brown, and a few other guests. Mr. Pearen was born in Devonshire, Eng., in the year 1809 and came to Canada in 1832. He settled in Harrison's neighborhood in the year 1834, when he was married. Mrs. Pearen is a daughter of the late Tho. Modeland, who was one of the pioneer Methodists of the old Brampton circuit. She was born in Cumberland, England, in the year 1820 and came with her father to this country when she was but 5 years old. About two years after their marriage Mr. Pearen bought the present old homestead on the 6th line and went there to live. They have been life-long Methodists and for some time a class meeting was held in their house which eventually formed the nucleus of the present Stanley Mills church. In this church he was class leader for several years, until his retirement and removal to Brampton, when his son Thomas was chosen as his successor. In the year 1877 they moved to Brampton, where they are spending a peaceful and green old age. The chief joy of their retirement is their nearness to God's house, for which they have something of David's love. It may be said of them that their last days are their best days, for they are evidently ripening for the harvest of everlasting life. The children presented them with a fine picture of themselves with their children and grandchildren around them. The following compose the group: Mr. and Mrs. Pearen, sen. ; Rev. James Pearen, wife and two daughters; Mrs. Milne, husband, one son and one daughter ; John E. Pearen, wife, four sons and two daughters; Thos. H. Pearen, wife, two sons and two daughters ; Mrs. Sommerville, husband, two sons and one daughter ; Jos. W. Pearen, one son and three daughters ; Geo. E. Pearen and wife ; J. M. Pearen, wife and one daughter. The eldest son read the accompanying address.

We, your children and grandchildren, have come together to-day to rejoice with you on reaching the 50th anniversary of your wedding and acknowledge the goodness of God in sparing you and us to see this jubilee year of your united lives. We feel ourselves to be greatly indebted to you for your example of uprightness, sobriety and industry, and for the Godly training you have given us. We believe that the prosperity and happiness that is our position today is largely due to the Christian principles which you sought to plant in our hearts before we left the old home. We therefore ask you to accept as an expression of our gratitude, this picture of yourselves, with your children and grandchildren around you, and now that we are no longer near you but away in the different places where Providence has appointed our spheres of toil and usefulness, you can look upon our faces and remember that, though distant, we hold you dear, and that while the last of the group is permitted to live, your memory will be precious. We rejoice with you too that you have so successfully climbed the hill of life together, that you are in circumstances of comfort and happiness in your old days. At your wedding fifty years ago you looked forward with hopefulness, trusting in God to prepare your way. Now at your golden wedding, you can look backward with thankfulness and say "Not one thing hath failed of all the good things which the Lord your God spake concerning you."

PEAREN—John Pearen, Sen., was born in Devonshire, England, March 9, 1809. He came to Canada in 1832, and took up his abode on the sixth line for thirty-four years, and finally settled in Brampton, where, after twenty years, he died, at the ripe age of eighty-eight. He was married in 1841 to Ann Modeland, with whom he spent 56 years of happy life. She survives him for a short time. He was never a strong man, but took care of his health, and so lived to old age. He started business on $5, which was loaned him by a friend, and from this small capital earned a competency, raised a family of six sons and two daughters, and educated them well for both worlds. His early life was in the fellowship of the English Church. He was remarkable for prayer and study of the Bible. He did all this in despite of his scoffing master. The excellency of his character and good workmanship saved him from dismissal. He was led to the Methodist class-meeting in Harrison's neighborhood. He loved its hallowed influences to his death. He joined the Methodist Church in 1836. Since his residence in Brampton he had the unbounded respect of all who knew him. His unswerving fidelity to the church, with all its ordinances and benevolences, was an exemplary force, and his testimonies at class were fresh and sweet. He was confined to the house for a few weeks before his death from heart failure. The writer spoke to him in his last moments as he sat up in bed, and then laid his head upon the pillow, and the spirit entered into rest February 17. He left a worthy family. His six sons were his pall-bearers, and while they carried him to the grave, they carried their father's hope in their hearts. They walk in the same pathway to the same goal. Rev. James Pearen, of Davisville, is a worthy type of the whole family.

Death of Mrs. Pearen

After a long and painful illness, Mrs. Pearen, Main St., North, passed away at the good old age of 84 years. Mrs. Pearen was born in England. She was the last surviving daughter of the late Thomas Modeland, who hewed a house for his family out of the woods at lot 14, 4th line east, Chinguacousy. Mr. Joshua Modeland, gaoler, Mr. Geo. Modeland, Stratford and Mr. Isaac Modeland, Dunnville, are the surviving members of her father's family. Mrs. Pearen is survived by six sons and two daughters. The latter are Mrs. Somerville, Kleinburg and Mrs. Milne, Peterboro. The sons are Rev. James, Messrs. John, Toronto; Geo., Iowa; Thos., Chinguacousy; Joseph E., Kewatin; Jabez, postmaster at Weston. Mrs. Pearen was a lifelong member of the Methodist church, worshipping with Grace Church congregation. The funeral took place yesterday to the cemetery here and was conducted by Rev. R. N. Burns.

Mary Ann Modeland (1820-1903)

PEAREN.—Ann Pearen was born in Cumberland, England, on September 4, 1820. She came to Canada five years later. At fourteen years of age she was happily converted at a camp-meeting held on Mr. Neelands' farm, a little below Brampton, and had a long, happy, steady Christian life. She was united in marriage to John Pearen, and they spent a happy life together, enjoying with their children and grandchildren their golden wedding anniversary just a little before the husband was called home in advance of her. She steadfastly labored for the conversion of all her children. She was unflinchingly loyal to what she believed to be right. She had a simple old-fashioned, unquestioning faith in God's Word, that strengthened her soul, steadied her hours of sorrow, and gave radiance to her hopes. Her Christian experience was ripened and enriched by some years of patient waiting and tender longing for her release, which came quietly and peacefully the morning of September 22.

Letter from Carl Pearen

The following is a copy of a letter dated January 29, 1971 written to Miss Shelley Fay by her Grandfather Carl Balfour Pearen about moving to Indian Head in 1907.

Dear Granddaughter:

This letter is written on very special paper. The picture of the Alberta rose is the same rose that grows wild all over Saskatchewan and my Father & Mother on their first trip west preparing a prairie chicken just shot, in its crop found two pips or berries of the wild rose that they washed off and brought back east to show the family at home and tell us about the roses & prairie chickens and other game on the land they had bought while in the west, which was to become the location of our future home. I was 15 years old then and the following March with 2 carloads of settlers effects we landed at Indian Head in a real storm. There were seven feet on the level of snow that winter. My Father & brother arrived several days after. They were 8 days on the Settlers' train and rode in the boxcars with the stock and equipment. They had a stove and one horse and one cow in the car they rode in and nine horses in the other car. My Mother, three sisters and I came in a Colonist car with wooden bunks that made up into beds at night and we were five days on the train. We had to supply our own mattress, a tick with straw or hay in it and our own blankets and food. There were two stoves in each Colonist car--flat top heaters-- that served for cooking and heating the cars that made up our train. My sisters and I were the only under twenty-one I believe, in our coach on that Colonist train. There were some young men. We had to make our own fun and even the train crew helped. Everybody was breaking old ties and going west to the land of opportunity. March 17th came but no "green" just miles of snow-bound prairie mile after mile as we read and re-read the C.P.R. Timetable but our train kept no schedule. One Irish Brakeman brought us some green flags that were used for signals in daylight hours on the Caboose at the rear of the train and my sisters and Mother made a buttoner for each so each was wearing the green when the Conductor came through and noticed. Instead of calling the Station he called "Ireland Next Station" and all that morning each time he came through it was "Ireland Next Station". One couple seated at the end of the Coach and not joining in did not understand and became quite alarmed. Some of the train crew became friends over the years, travelling from Brandon to Moose Jaw, 'till their retirement. When we unloaded at Indian Head the horses and cow were made comfortable in the Victoria Hotel Stable and we learned the Agent had not been able to secure a house for us to live in in town so we had to live up in the third story above the bank for two weeks while a house was heated and fumigated near where the Forestry Office is now located. We got some horses and the cow out to the farm and the Victoria Hotel was burned to the ground at night. The barn that was attached at the corner was mostly saved. It was a brick building and the wind was favorable. Our horses were removed for a time and the next day were taken to the farm Section 5-18-13-W2nd. In the summer of 1908 I broke, with three mules and a horse, the most easterly 60 acres of the south-east quarter of Sec. 6-18-13-W2 which included the land the Squirrell Hills School was after built on. In 1909 I broke the next 50 acres of said quarter. In 1910 we built the barn on 5-18-13-W2 and that year my oldest sister was married to Wes Ford and went to his farm where Chas. Appleton now lives. My brother was married March 17, 1910 and started to farm in partnership with Will Sinclair 1½ sections where Calcrafts lived. Sec. 8-18-13-W2 where Lloyds live now was purchased in Spring of 1914 and I proceeded to put a wire fence around same, break and build on same. Most of the breaking was done with 12 horses on a high lift 20" furrow scrub plow. I am sorry I got this so long but I thought you might like to read about how we came west. Your Grand-mother came on our honeymoon by boat and train in June 1919 after we were married at Malton, Ontario. We enjoyed the life on our farm with our family moving to town in 1944. Thank you for your part in our happiness. Someday I hope your Grandchildren will ask you to write them a letter.

With love, Grandpa Pearen
